TUSCANIA SURVIVOR

LETTERS FROM CORP. RADCLIFFE TELL OF HIS VOYAGE AND RESCUE

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Radcliffe of 426 Pioneer Drive are hoping to soon have a chance to welcome home their youngest son, Corp. Leland Stanford Radcliffe, with the 100th Aero Squadron, which was one of the bombing organizations which protected London during the war. He is but 21 years of age but has had some thrilling experiences as he sailed on the Tuscania, which was torpedoed, and he very narrowly escaped death. Following that disaster his parents were in great anxiety until messages reached them from Postmaster Burleson at Washington that their son had been saved. After that they were besieged by press representatives for accounts of his experience and for his picture which appeared in the "Tribune" of Chicago, where his brothers and sisters reside, also in Minneapolis, Minn., and Des Moines, Iowa, papers.

When he returns after visiting his relatives in Chicago he will come to California to join his parents who purchased a home in Glendale at Holiday time and who are in love with the city of their adoption where they already have a large circle of friends. Following are letters received from Corporal Radcliffe describing his voyage and the torpedoing of the Tuscania, on which the lights went out leaving the vessel in total darkness the instant the torpedo struck. It seems little short of a miracle that any were saved.

February 11, 1918.
Somewhere in England.

Dear Sister:—

I am writing for this is all I can do and only way I can let you know I am safe and that I was rescued from the Tuscania disaster, forty minutes after we were struck.

I was about one deck above where the torpedo struck and water rushed into the room I was in. I was in pantry or kitchen carrying fried fish; did not have life belt or clothes, but had to run to my state room for them, and then had to climb five decks to get to our life boats and the lights were not lighted again till I got outside as they went out instant.

FUNERAL OF MISS IRELAND

The funeral services of Miss Nellie May Ireland, daughter of J. J. Ireland, will be held at the Jewel City Undertaking Parlors at 2 p. m. Tuesday, March 18th.

Miss Ireland was a graduate nurse of the Loma Linda Sanitarium and was employed at the Glendale Sanitarium for some time prior to her last illness.

Elder R. W. Munson, sanitarium chaplain, will conduct the service.

WAS IN ARGONNE

AND WILL BEAR ITS IMPRESS TO HIS GRAVE

There was a dramatic scene in C. E. McPeck's plumbing shop last Saturday. A young man limped slowly in and stood by the railing. His face bore the impress of suffering and the tense, drawn look of one who had faced death for many succeeding days. The book-keeper asked if he wished anything, but he indicated by a gesture that he wished to see Mr. McPeck. The latter at that moment looked full at him, but with no recognition in his gaze. The young man then exclaimed: "Don't you know me?" Mr. McPeck stared into his face, then exclaimed: "My God, man, is it actually you?" He had recognized his visitor as a bright, alert, quick-moving, young salesman for a Los Angeles rubber company, who had been a particular favorite with the trade because of his engaging manner and his square dealing. He explained that he had been in the hospital many weeks and had been lost sight of by his people. He had been given his old job back, but was finding he could not hold it because of his lameness. He had been granted a pension by the government and offered free schooling in any trade he might select, so he was going to take advantage of this. He was with the 91st and received a slight wound during the St. Mihiel fight. Quickly recovering from this, he went back on duty in time to take part in the awful Argonne struggle and there it was he received the serious wound in the leg that made him a cripple for life. He said, "I would not have missed the chance of fighting for my country and human rights for anything in the world, though it was an awful experience. I do feel sorry for the boys who wanted to go and were not given the chance, but I heartily despise the slackers."

HARRY GLAZIER SATISFIED TO FLY 155 MILES AN HOUR

In a letter which Mrs. Dora Glazier of Lomita avenue has just received from her son Harry, who is at Rockwell Field, he tells of a flight he has had in the famous new aeroplane, "The Lacreia," which is capable of making 180 miles an hour. He went at the velocity of 155 miles an hour and says it was plenty fast enough for him. He reports official changes down there and the reorganization of the air service which he hopes will lead soon to his discharge.

ACTIVE LEGISLATION

LAUNDRY BILL UP TODAY—SUNDAY LAW DIED IN COMMITTEE

Assemblyman John Robert White has had to put on all his armor and fight for the bills he is helping to push through the legislature. One of them, his "laundry bill" (which is not a bill for his washing), is to come up today (Monday). It is an act to amend the eight-hour law for women that employs may be permitted to work nine hours a day previous to a holiday like Fourth of July or Decoration Day and so make up the wages they would lose by the holiday. It is being opposed by some of the labor unions. Mr. White offered an amendment in committee which was accepted and he has hopes the bill will pass.

The measure in which he is especially interested, the amendment of the primary law, is still in committee and it is expected some committee action will be had this week. The Sunday Closing Law was killed in committee and never came to vote in the legislature.

DINNER AND SHOWER

FRIENDS OF EVANGELINE HUNTLEY ENTERTAINED IN HER HONOR BY MISS STONE

Miss Carrie Stone was hostess at a pretty dinner and shower for Miss Evangeline Huntley, which was given at the Stone residence, 713 South Glendale avenue, Saturday afternoon and evening. The table was centered with white bloom, and covers were laid for the guest of honor, Miss Huntley, and Misses Margery Morse, Esther Schremp, Catherine Phillips, Margaret Boucher, Wauwita Emery and Carrie Stone. Miss Huntley was the recipient of a linen shower and the warm congratulations of these intimate girl friends who spent a pleasant afternoon and were joined after the dinner by Misses Helen and Ruth Begg and by Messrs. Seymour Smith, Martin McDuffie, Tom Phillips and Messrs. Ford and Miller. The evening was spent in dancing for which victrola and piano furnished music.

GLENDALE MAN BRANCHES OUT

W. J. Stone of 641 North Brand Blvd. has embarked in a mammoth enterprise which will take him away from Glendale, much to the regret of himself, his family and their many friends. He has formed a partnership with three Illinois capitalists, all relatives, and they have bought 540 acres of land near Paso Robles. They will put out between 200 and 300 acres in almond trees and the remainder in prunes and pears. Almonds is the most profitable crop and the trees need no irrigation. Prunes raised near Paso Robles are not as valuable in demand as the Santa Clara Valley product, but they are more easily raised as they grow perfectly without irrigation, as do nearly all other fruit trees raised there.

Mr. Stone will not move his family to the new home till next October.

RAIN FOR WILD FLOWERS

Nature lovers hope that the inch and three-quarters of rain which has been recorded in Glendale this week will bring forward the wild flowers. The crop this year has been meagre as compared with some seasons. Doubtless lack of abundant rain has prevented germination of dormant seeds. Neither has the growth of plants which have sprouted been as luxuriant as is sometimes seen. In the vacant lots of Glendale the most common floral vagrants to be seen now are the blue lupins, both annual and perennial, tall and dwarf, the crimson owl clover, and the beautiful little yellow "Sun Cup," which sometimes expands into a mat of prostrate branches two to three feet across. The little carpet flora are also spreading a rainbow of color in some fields.

GERMANY MAY HAVE SOVIET REPUBLIC

SPARTACANS ARE HEARTENED BY GOVERNMENT WEAKNESS AND RADICALS ARE UNITING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Berlin, March 17, by Courier to Paris.—(Copyrighted, 1919 by United Press.)—The government's failure to stamp out completely the Spartacan revolution in Berlin has heartened the radical element, which is planning the establishment of a soviet republic next month. All the radicals are uniting in the revolutionary program. They are confident they will win from the exhausted government, and even government officials are beginning to admit that the cabinet's position is seriously threatened.

Although the government is not defeated in a military way, the government troops have failed to crush the Spartacides and have failed to capture the revolutionists, while the Spartacides are still cleverly and effectively resisting.

Berlin papers are filled with appeals from the government for volunteers to help suppress the revolution, but the number of answers received is negligible.

PRESIDENT WILSON STANDS PAT

STATEMENT OF FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER PINCHON THAT LEAGUE WILL BE EXCLUDED IS DENIED

Paris, March 17.—American officials here today emphatically denied the statement of French Foreign Minister Pinchon that the League of Nations will not be included in the peace treaty.

President Wilson and the other American commissioners are standing pat on their demand that it be included, and the President may restate his position at today's meeting of the war council.

CONFLICTING NEWS CAUSES CONFUSION

PARIS DISPATCHES INDICATE CONGRESS WILL HAVE TO RATIFY PRELIMINARY TREATY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, March 17.—Apparent disagreement between President Wilson and French Foreign Minister Pinchon, as to whether the League of Nations should be a part of the first peace treaty, is causing confusion here. It has been generally understood that the preliminary treaty about to be signed would be little more than an extension of the armistice and would not require ratification by the United States Senate. Dispatches from Paris today, however, declared that the Senate ratification will be necessary and that the peace conference expects that a special session of the American Congress will be called within sixty or ninety days to act on the measure. These dispatches said that, to all intents and purposes, the preliminary treaty will be the final peace. Under those circumstances, it is generally believed that the President will make a stubborn fight to assure the inclusion of the League of Nations.

REVOLUTIONARY ACTS IN EGYPT

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN CAIRO FOLLOWING NATIONALIST RIOTS—400 ARRESTS MADE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Cairo, Egypt, March 17.—Martial law was declared here last night as a result of Egyptian Nationalist riots. Troops and armored cars are patrolling the streets. Over four hundred arrests have been made.

GERMAN COMMANDER CLUBBED TO DEATH

GENERAL VON ARNIM ATTACKED BY PEASANTS WHEN HE ATTEMPTED TO DRIVE THEM FROM HIS ESTATES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Copenhagen, March 17.—Dispatches received today reported that peasants clubbed to death General Von Arnim, who commanded the German armies in Flanders, when he attempted to drive them from his estate.

FAMOUS REGIMENT RETURNS TO CANADA

ONLY EIGHT OF ORIGINAL MEMBERS SURVIVE AFTER FOUR YEARS OF GRUELLING CONFLICT

London, March 17.—Morning papers, commenting on the statement of French Foreign Minister Pinchon that the League of Nations will not be a part of the peace treaty, agree that it should be included in the final treaty.

INTERMEDIATE ORGANIZES NEW INDOOR BALL LEAGUE

A grammar school league of indoor baseball players is being organized which will include the teams of Intermediate, Cerritos, Burbank and probably Eagle Rock. In the first game, which is scheduled for next week, the teams of Intermediate and Burbank will meet on the local court. It is good news to know that Freshmen boys of Glendale High are not too proud to compete with old playfellows and that they will have a practice game at Intermediate this week.

La Haute Brennard, France, Jan. 25, 1919.

Dear Mother:—

Well, still doing business at the same old place, and can't say that I am especially in love with it either. It has turned cold, very raw and penetrating. Water freezes as soon as it strikes the ground. I am wearing all the clothes that I at present can scrape up.

I have on a winter suit of underwear, a sweater over that, a woolen shirt, then a sleeveless leather jerkin, lined with wool, next to that a blouse or coat, and last, but by no means least, an army overcoat, heavy enough to break a mule's back. The rest of my clothes being dirty (no joke), I have sent them to the laundry, so will have to freeze it out until I can get them back and don a couple more shirts.

The "Old Man" (Pershing) himself is scheduled to review this division tomorrow. I don't know what his verdict will be, but I hope he does not look so favorably upon us that he will decide to hold us over here for a while longer. We are gradually being outfitted with new and clean clothes now. I have hopes of being able to sport an entire new uniform in a few days. Oh yes! I was also deloused the other day. They have rigged up a shower bath in a building here, and pulled into town a portable delouser. It has a boiler on one end, and the rest of it is in the

BIG SPORTING EVENT

GLENDALE HIGH'S BASKETBALL TEAM TO PLAY SEMI-FINALS AT ALHAMBRA

The big sporting event of Glendale High for this week comes off Wednesday afternoon when its basketball team will journey to Alhambra, attended by a large retinue of cheering attendants to root for their favorites. If the local team wins this game it will then be ready for the championship which will be played with either Covina or Burbank. In the Wednesday game Alhambra's team will have a slight advantage in playing on its own court, but here's hoping Glendale players win.

SOON TO BE HOME

Ormond Bradley of 523 Oak St., who is with the 316th Supply Train, 91st Division, expects to start for home the last of this month, embarking at St. Nazaire. His mother received a letter a few days ago from an organization in New York City that had been formed to look after the boys from the Pacific coast on their disembarking, and the writer offered to take charge of any mail sent there to meet the boys on their return. Mrs. Bradley at once notified the families of other boys in that command so that welcoming letters could be sent to meet them as they disembark.

A COMMUNITY LOSS

The departure of H. W. Walker and family for Santa Ana this week is a loss to our community which will cause much regret.

Mr. Walker has long been identified with the growth and development of this section and still has valuable realty holdings here.

Mr. Walker of late years has given his attention to the automobile industry, having represented at different times the Ford, Dodge and Hudson products. He now becomes the Orange county representative of the Nash Motor Co.

The many friends of these excellent people join in wishing them every success among the good people of Santa Ana.

ST. PATRICK PRESIDES

IRISH EMBLEM FEATURE PRETTY DANCING PARTY AT HOME OF MR. AND MRS. C. H. TOLL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Kennel Road entertained Saturday evening with a St. Patrick's dancing party for their three sons, Hulbert, Gerald and Maynard Toll. Ireland was well to the fore for green dominated the floral decorations, supplemented with Irish festoons and flags; the dancing favors were green Irish plug hats for the boys and trench caps for the girls. In the refreshments the same suggestion was carried out with lettuce salad sandwiches and the shamrock design moulded into the ice-cream and decorating the fancy cakes.

The Toll home is spacious and when the library, living room and dining room were thrown together there was ample space for dancing, the musicians being imported from Los Angeles.

The hostess was assisted by her sister, Miss Beresford Joy, and Mrs. David Spangler of Los Angeles and by Mrs. W. P. Thompson and Mrs. C. B. Guthrie of Glendale.

Guests present were: Edythe Atkinson, Harriet Barnes, Josephine Betz of Los Angeles, Doris Braly of Los Angeles, Kathleen Campbell, Betty Fell, Florence Gower, Eleanor Gregg, Jessie Gregg, Evelyn Gregg, Katherine Guthrie, Virginia Huntley, Mildred Meeker, Margaret Mitchell, Marie Oliver, Esther Ralston, Eleanor Sawyer, Katherine Spangler of Los Angeles, Mildred Stanford, Elizabeth Sternberg, Helen Thompson, Elizabeth Webb, Dorothy Woods, Katherine Woods, Frank Balthis, Oran Branscombe, Daniel Campbell, Arthur Campbell, Harold Crane, Rhurak Dudley, Harold Duey, Phillips Henderson, Jack Jenkins, Warren Meeker, Hollis Moyses, Joseph Penner, Clarence Ralston, Howard Ralston, William Strong, William Taylor, Edward Thompson, Philip Wernette, Kenneth Whaley, Howard Wilson of Los Angeles, Hubert Woods, and the sons of the house, Hulbert, Maynard and Gerald Toll.

MUSICAL TREAT

CONCERT BY LEON RICE OF NEW YORK ASSISTED BY METHO-DIST CHURCH CHOIR

The auditorium of the First Methodist Church was filled last night to hear the sacred song service given by Mr. Leon Rice, the New York tenor, assisting the pastor and local choir.

Miss Guelph McQuinn introduced the evening with "In the Twilight" on the pipe organ, and the vested choir entered to "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," sung to "Coronation." In the anthem, "My God, My Father," Mrs. Irving Smith and Miss Marion Addison had the solo parts. Mr. Rice captivated the congregation with three great solos, "Cast Thy Burden" (Bernard Hamblen), "Repent Ye" (John Prindle Scott) and "The Ninety and Nine." "Repent Ye" was written for Mr. Rice's voice and dedicated to him by the composer, and the message of John the Baptist is marvelously fitted to the voice.

Mrs. Rice accompanied on the piano for the first two songs, and on the pipe organ for the last. Miss Amanda Caesar, Mrs. Rice's sister, rendered a pleasing violin number.

Mr. Rice is an enthusiastic patriot, having given his services to the government for the entertainment of our soldiers during the war, and his devotion to America goes to the extent of the faith that she is not only the best country in the world, but that American products are the best, including American music. In his own words, "American-made music as well as American-made commercial

BACK TO THE OLD HOME

Mr. and Mrs. S. Frank, who located at 340 West Doran street years ago and took root there with the trees and flowers they planted, got discontented a few months ago and when an opportunity presented itself to sell their home, disposed of it with the intention of moving to Los Angeles. They spent some time investigating residence sections of that city, but none of it looked as good to them as Glendale, especially at that time when "flu" signs were much in evidence, so they came back and took a house on Patterson avenue, but it wasn't home. They found their hearts "honing" for their old location "where every neighbor 'round the place was dear as a relation," and so they have bought back at 340 West Doran St. and declare they will never leave it again, but live and die there.

NEPHEW OF MRS. ELLEN MULVIHILL WRITES ENTERTAININGLY FROM COBLENZ

Mrs. Ellen Mulvihill of 134 North Louise street has received some more interesting letters from her nephew, Private P. G. O'Connor with Co. G, 54th Pioneer Infantry, Army of Occupation. As will be seen, he is anxiously awaiting the receipt of a certain issue of the Glendale Evening News:

Coblentz-Urmitz on the Rhine, Feb. 6, 1919.

My Dear Auntie Ellen:— I certainly was immensely pleased to receive your "wireless" of January 7th. Yes, Auntie, I reached me January 31st (seven days ago), and was but twenty-four days coming from Glendale, Cal., to Coblentz-Urmitz, Germany.

Regarding your talks about your successful effort in putting my letter in the Glendale newspaper, I would say Auntie that I am deeply appreciative of your thoughtfulness and kindness in thinking so much of my note. It has not yet reached me and I am anxious to see it. If I receive the copy you say you have sent to me, I will write a line to you immediately to acknowledge it.

Well, Auntie, my regiment is with the Army of Occupation and we have been in Germany for the past couple of months. The house I live in at the present time is so close upon the Rhine River that I could almost take a dive out of the window and land in the water. The Rhine is quite a nice river all right, but the Hudson will always be good enough for me.

We are near the fairly large town of Coblentz and are living in a small town named Urmitz about five miles distant. There is quite a lot of entertainment for the Yanks in Coblentz, but elsewhere in Germany there is none and I have but little opportunity to go to the big town for enjoyment as the officers are not liberal with the passes.

I am feeling fine and O. K. but the life here is not jolly and in fact there is not much in all Germany for a bunch of homesick Yanks. The Army of Occupation, you know, is on the Rhine to fulfill the terms of the armistice and is composed only of troops that were at the front; it numbers 200,000 men.

There are thousands of men leaving France each day for home, but I regret to say Auntie that my regiment is not among those that have sailing orders. However, I am sitting tight and waiting patiently with untold eagerness for the day when we get orders to start home and I hope it will be before long.

My kindest regards to all who are with you.

Your loving nephew,
PHIL
Coblentz-Urmitz on the Rhine, Feb. 10, 1919.

My Dear Auntie:— Last night I received that much looked-for California newspaper, but as I gazed upon it, to my great dismay, I couldn't find my letter. To satisfy myself I searched every bit of print in it without finding the letter. You evidently made a mistake and did not send me the right sheet. If you have a copy to spare I wish you would shoot it along to me as my anxiety to see it increases every day and I am also eager to show it around to the boys out here.

Well, we are still pegging along

FIRE ENGINE TEST

The test of the new American-La France fire engine recently purchased by the city, which test was held Friday, March 7th, under the direct supervision of O. W. Bryant, Geo. Kothe and V. E. Dawson, engineers of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, was completely successful. The engine was run by F. E. Schutzbach, representative of the manufacturer, and the test was witnessed by Chief Lankford and his aids. Following is the report sent to Chief Lankford:

(a) With pump running at 144 pounds pressure, with three streams flowing, relief valve was set at approximately 150 pounds. On account of condition of old hose two lines were shut off simultaneously at the pump, while the third line was shut off with Gortier shut-off nozzle and pressure increased to 190 lbs. Relief valve equalized pressure, after which pump ran steadily at 183 pounds. Motor showed no tendency to stall.

(b) With pump thrown out and engine running slowly, churn valve open and relief valve set, pump was thrown in and a working pressure built up to 183 pounds in a few seconds, with pump and engine running smoothly. Motor showed no tendency to stall.

(c) With suction caps on suction inlets to pump, and pump drained, an indicated vacuum of 30 inches of mercury was obtained.

(d) A road run of 7.2 miles was made at a speed of 30 miles per hour, with a maximum speed of 43 miles per hour. A hill-climbing test was made on a short 15 to 20 per cent. grade. Upon driving down grade foot brake held satisfactorily, while emergency brakes showed the need of slight adjustment. Engine was reversed and truck backed up hill without difficulty. One thousand feet of C. R. L. hose and seven men were carried during the above test. Cooling system satisfactory.

SERMONS IN GLASS

A series of unique sermons for which the beautiful art windows in the First Methodist Church will furnish the theme, is being planned by Rev. Charles H. Scott, the pastor, who intends to give the first of the series of "Sermons in Glass" next Sunday evening. There are nine of these windows, each representing a different subject and picturing the Star of Hope, The Open Gate, Cross and Crown, The Overflowing Cup, The Descending Spirit, The Ascending Spirit, The Rock of Ages and The Cross of Christ. He has not announced the order in which he will take up these subjects. If there are "books in running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything," he is confident he will find these beautiful and suggestive embellishments of the church an inspiration.

on the old Rhine and waiting for the day to start home, but the United States has not yet made any move to lay us off and give us a ride home. The weather is quite cold and a little snowy. There is a little ice skating to be had on the Moselle River which empties into the Rhine at Coblentz.

I trust you will be as fat as ever when I get back. That is always an indication of good health, Auntie, and I trust that you will not be lacking in it.

Your loving nephew,
PHIL O'CONNOR.

THE WARRIOR SPIRIT

DR. POWELL DRAWS FROM LIFE OF ABRAHAM LESSONS FOR MODERN CHURCH

The virtues of Abraham and the lessons which moderns may learn from his behavior were the theme of the Sunday evening sermon of Dr. P. L. Powell of the First Baptist Church of this city, who reviewed the thirteenth and fourteenth chapters of Genesis which set forth Abraham's generosity in dividing the country with Lot and allowing him to choose the rich plain of the Jordan, taking himself the hill country that was left and then, when Lot was taken captive by marauding kings making war upon Sodom and Gomorrah, going to the rescue of Lot and rescuing him and his household, his goods and chattels, without acceptance of reward by Abraham for the service.

He dwelt on the fact that Abraham built an altar to the true God in the land of Hebron as soon as he took possession of his new land and the preacher queried: "In which of these chapters did he best play the role of Christian, the chapter in which he gathered his household around the altar and worshiped God or in the chapter where he is girding on his sword and going out to fight the battles of his brother?" He answered the query by saying:

"I think it takes both the thirteenth and the fourteenth chapters to set forth the whole aspect of the Christian life. We ought not to discount the scene in the thirteenth chapter. We need these periods of meditation. It will be a sad day for our Christian life and for the Church of God when we cannot observe seasons of retirement for prayer and meditation. But also it will be a sad day for our religion when we confine it to seasons of prayer and of meditation and worship. What we need in our Christian life is the expression of that life. If Abraham had been satisfied to remain at his altar worshiping and offering sacrifices to God perhaps we would not have been reading about him in the sacred writ. The subject which this suggests to me is the warrior spirit in the kingdom of God and the warrior element in the Christian life. It is a phase of the Christian life we ought to think about a great deal.

"Perhaps we have passed the time when we confine our thinking upon religion to these periods when we gather in the house of God or to that great period in the morning when we gather around the family altar, yet I question as to whether we have gotten to the place where we are willing to gird on our armor and carry on the warfare in the world for righteousness and justice."

Several other lessons he drew from the narrative, first the courage of Abraham, who might easily have shirked his responsibilities in view of the numbers and strength of the kings against whom he went out, and the speed with which he acted without waiting to deliberate.

"It requires courage," he said, "to do any kind of Christian work and a lot of people are sitting quietly inactive in their homes because they fear they will not be successful. Also there are a good many things that need to be done now if they are done at all. I have heard criticisms of the church which have aroused my indignation because I felt they were unjust, but there are some things said about the church that I fear sometimes have a great deal of truth in them. I have heard it said that we are always deliberating and frequently fail to execute the things we resolve upon. I hope it isn't always true, but I know it has been true of conventions where we have assembled and heard eloquent addresses and put our resolutions upon paper and then returned to our homes and gone up to the convention the next year and deliberated on the same things and passed the same resolutions and nothing has been done. Perhaps there are things in this community that ought to be undertaken the coming week, things you or I ought to do tomorrow."

The unselfishness of Abraham in refusing a personal reward for what he had done in the spirit which the preacher declared should characterize us in our church work. It should be done for the righteousness and merit of the work itself, not for the aggrandizement of our particular church or to maintain it on an equality with other churches, or be done for personal distinction.

"What we need," he declared in closing, "is the warrior spirit of the kingdom of God. We need to gird on our armor to do battle for our Savior and our King."

appreciation and recognition on the part of our singers and music-lovers. It has been somewhat of a tradition in America among musical people that good music could be produced only in Europe, and that the older the music, the better its quality.

During the past year I have had upwards of three thousand songs sent to me by composers and publishers in America, and among goods should receive more general them are scores of things worthy of the best efforts of any of our sing-

THE SECOND LECTURE

Dr. W. F. Richardson of Hollywood is to deliver the second in the series of lectures on "Christian Fundamentals," in the Glendale High School auditorium this evening at 7:45. His subject is a most timely one in view of present conditions, particularly in labor circles, "The World's Cry and the Church's Answer." Dr. Richardson was for 20 years pastor of a big city church that successfully met the problem of the church's connection with the laboring man, hence can speak with authority. It is hoped every seat in the auditorium will be occupied tonight.

Do not throw away old lace curtains. Fold together three or four thicknesses and stitch in a quilting pattern on the machine. It will take only a few minutes and you will have nice, soft dishcloths that are easily cleaned.

Advertise it, or advertise for it in the Evening News.

Personals

Mrs. Emma Spence of Redlands is visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. J. Stone, at 641 North Brand boulevard.

Mrs. Walter Nicholson of Lancaster spent last week with her parents, I. C. Wasson and wife, of 623 Acacia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Van Etten have returned to their home on El Bonito Ave. from the North Glendedale ranch of David Black, who came back from Y. M. C. A. work in the army.

Emerald neckties, shamrocks, green carnations, are much in evidence and the windows of stationers are gay with flags and cards celebrating the popular old saint who made March 17th a famous day.

The combined test of the three fire engines of Glendale which was to have been made Friday morning, was postponed on account of the storm to next Thursday morning when it will be held at Doran and Jackson streets.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Isitt, of 724 South Maryland avenue, entertained at dinner Saturday evening, old friends from Kansas City, covers being laid for Mr. and Mrs. Lacy and Mr. and Mrs. Avery.

Misses A. A. and Emma A. Mishke have bought the de Graf place, 442 W. Maple St. and will move in today. Miss Emma is a trained nurse and her sister is employed by the Security National Bank. The deGrafs will move to Harbor City.

Doty L. Anderson of 126 North Louise was a guest of Prof. and Mrs.
J. K. Renshaw of 1916 E. 77th St., Los Angeles, on Sunday. He attended the services at the Florence Ave.
M. E. Church, of which Rev. Louis J.
Spring is pastor.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Tropi-co Presbyterian Church, held last week, officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. S. E.
Brown, president; Mrs. W. R. Alexander, secretary; Mrs. H. L. Moody, treasurer.

Fred B. Mattice and wife have traded their lot in Montrose in on the purchase of residence property on North Louise, just above Dryden.
No sooner was the purchase completed than it was rented. Mr. Mattice is in the printing business in Los Angeles, but he and his family greatly prefer Glendale as the place to live.

Ladies of Chapter B. of the P. E.
O. gave Mrs. Ben Wilde a little farewell surprise party last week, visiting her at her home and taking the party refreshments with them. A very pleasant musical and social evening was spent. Mrs. Wilde will be greatly missed in club and social circles in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paul of 233 Orange street entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. Paul's brother-in-law, Charles Deal, who has just returned from naval service, and Mrs.
Deal. The mother and brother of the hostess, Mrs. Nancy Elmer and Scott Elmer, of Los Angeles were also guests.

C. E. Peck, the jeweler, who recently traded his fine home at 712 S. Pacific Ave. for the bungalow at 114 S. Louise, in order that he might be close to his work, will move as soon as some repairs in the way of shingling, etc., are completed. A. H.
Fulscher's family vacated the house last Saturday.

Ben Durham was home to spend Saturday and Sunday with his parents, J. W. Durham and wife, of 611 W. Elk Ave. Ben was released from service about a month ago subject to instant call at any time, before peace is declared. He went to work at once in the yards of the L. A. Shipbuilding Co. They have just completed a ship and are to begin laying the keel of another today.

GLENDALÉ COMMANDERY, NO.

SNOWBALLING IN MOUNTAINS

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Woodard and family and Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Thom motored eastward along the foothill boulevard Sunday morning and enjoyed snowballing in the San Bernardino mountains, where the trees were very beautiful in their mantle of white. On descending to the foothills they left the autos and reclined on the ground in the warm sunshine with winter left behind them in the upper regions. Mrs.
Woodard declares it was one of the most delightful trips she has taken since she came to California.

DEATH OF FREDERICK B. HUES-MAN

Frederick B. Huesman died this morning, March 17, 1919, at 7:40 o'clock, at his home at 509 East Windsor Road. He was sixty-nine years of age, was a native of Ohio and had lived in Glendale eight years out of the fifteen he had spent in California. He leaves a wife, six sons and one daughter, viz., Frank J.
Huesman, of Louisville, Ky.; Fred H., R. H., E. A., R. R. Huesman of Glendale; a son in Los Angeles, and one daughter, Mrs. H. M. Doll, of Glendale.

Funeral services, which will be in charge of the Seavern Company, have not yet been announced.

HELP BUILD

Members of the Glendale Plant & Floral Company have started on a business building campaign and declare if they can have the backing of Glendale citizens they will give the city a truly metropolitan seed store and flower shop. Their business quarters have been enlarged to accommodate an increased stock, they are now equipped to make four deliveries a day, and there is no reason why every want for seed, plants or trees for Glendale setting should not be met by them. If they have it not in stock they are ready to make a run to Los Angeles to secure it and deliver the order at the garden of the patron. Co-operation between patrons and business firms, is all Glendedale needs to make this city a thoroughly alive business center.

For perhaps the first time in Los Angeles history there were two arrests for snowballing in her streets last Friday evening. An overland train pulled in with the tops of the cars covered with snow to a considerable depth. Two boys spied this and managed to climb to the tops of the cars and from this vantage point snowballed people in the street below. A policeman, observing their actions, charged on them through a barrage of snowballs and placed them under arrest.

TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The regular annual meeting of the Tropico Presbyterian Church and the most important meeting of the year from a business standpoint, will be held at the church Wednesday evening, March 26th, at which time a free supper will be served to the whole constituency of the church, reports will be received from the different departments of the church and officers will be elected for the coming year.

Next Friday evening this church will have what is called "the kickoff meeting," at which all solicitors are assembled for final instructions for the Victory Drive.

Next Sunday, March 23d, the annual every-member-canvass will take place, that being the national Presbyterian day for raising $38,000,000, of which $25,000,000 will be for local expenses and $13,000,000 for benevo-lences.

or of the birthdays of Mr. and Mrs.
W. N. Shields of Eagle Rock, Miss Mabel Bayley of Los Angeles, Miss Ellene Grist and the hostess, all having birthdays between the eighth and the twenty-fourth. The decorations were white and green.
Mints and ices were served in the form of shamrocks. Music was enjoyed during the evening. Several vocal numbers were given by Miss Ellene Grist.

WILD FLOWER COLLECTION

The Glendale Plant & Floral Company has a beautiful collection of wild flowers gathered within ten minutes' walk of the business center of Glendale. It includes various varieties of lupin, wild peonies, owl's clover, painter's brush, etc., and the public is invited to come in and inspect these floral gypsies, many of whom are found wandering in all states in the union, and, like an old friend from home, are welcomed by new comers still a little homesick for eastern scenes and friends.

Yesterday forenoon 26 members of the men's class of the Central Christian Sunday School, three of them accompanied by their wives, motored to Van Nuys and surprised their former teacher, Dr. I. H. Durfee, who is preaching for a new congregation there. They greatly enjoyed the trip and the sermon.

worn them a couple of times.

I am feeling fine, so do not worry about me.

Best wishes and lots of love, from January 22, 1919.

Dear Mother and All:—
Have not written as often as I should do, I know, but seems I can only write when my spirit moves me and that is not very often.

A few days ago I sent a couple letters with post cards enclosed. Well as far as souvenirs are concerned I could send lots more of them, but as you know they are pretty high priced and are good for nothing and in the way so I have not troubled to send even souvenir handkerchiefs as I know how you feel about such things.
I care more for pictures, etc., so have a number of post card. Just about one year ago we sailed from New York on "Tuscania," an English ship carrying cargo and troops.

We left Garden City on the morning of the 22d, about 2 a. m., went to Brooklyn on train, got on ferry on East River and went under three of the big bridges, river jamming with cakes of ice, and up Hudson to 14th St. Pier 56, Cunard Line docks, and were on board about 10 o'clock the next day.

We being the first of our company, ten of us were picked for kitchen help, and were given second-class passage all the way over, those not working were in other parts of the ship.

We steamed down the Hudson to New York Bay, all tug boats steaming and whistling as the ice was very bad, and it was a very cold day. We were not allowed on deck at all, and so we occasionally opened a port hole just a trifle to see Manhattan disappearing with Statue of Liberty in the distance.

We were 24 hours out at sea when we again discovered land and it was Nova Scotia. After a few hours we were anchored in the river or harbor and the city was easily recognized when we saw the destruction caused by the explosion of the munition ship which was rammed by a Red Cross Belgium Relief Ship which we saw going into the harbor.

We were anchored 24 hours when we were again moving. We were not alone this time, but a convoy of about 12 boats I believe, all large boats, some well-known passenger boats, others freighters, and one signal ship, a battle cruiser, British, which was vicious-looking, indeed.
Our boat was the only one of the passenger boats that was camouflaged and some terrible looking colors at that.

After leaving Halifax we struck some very rough sea and it was very cold and occasionally we saw land and a few days later we saw land which must have been Newfoundland as we could still see the pines and snow.

We were at sea from Halifax 11 days and the 14th day on the boat that we were torpedoed on. At about 2 p. m. we discovered sight of land and after a few boxing matches on board went down to get ready for supper. I had been working in kitchen all the while coming over, which is pretty hard for the first time at sea.

We had served the first setting when we were torpedoed and it caused some excitement about 5:50 p. m., Feb. 5th, and did not get to land till 11:45 on a British destroyer that had rescued us; the port being Buncrance, county Donegal, Ireland.
We were led to a British camp just a couple miles from dock, mostly Irish and Scotch soldiers, where we were served with a bean soup to warm us up.

We slept in a canteen on one blanket on the floor till morning and so many around and dark we didn't know whether our pals were saved or not so we just went to sleep.

The next morning we were sure glad to see our pals, some of whom landed at the same port, and they sure did look at home, no hat or maybe Irish cap of some kind, no coats, some no shoes and others their clothes torn, others with steamer blankets around them, others lace curtains from the ship over their heads, bath robes taken from first-class state rooms, others with sailor clothes on and fascinators and anything convenient. We did not get a good meal until late in the day because of so many unexpected guests, but lots had the chance to sample the Old Irish and Scotch whiskey and did not care for a meal as they were too happy to eat.

The next day we left for Garrick Fergus, a larger camp, and there we were well taken care of in eats, clothes, shoes, caps, etc., plenty to wear. We were all right then except for money which we needed worse than ever, as we had all had our good time before we left New York which left us all broke. We were at this camp, Sunnyland Camp, near Belfast.

The next day we went to Belfast, marched through the city, also Londonderry, and then to Dublin from where we took the boat for Wales or Holyhead, and then London. This sea we crossed is also very dangerous and the next week after we crossed, that same boat was torpedoed and sunk.

It took about three hours to cross to Wales from London, where we had breakfast. We went to Winchester where we were issued a full uniform of American clothes, except hats.
From there we went to a training camp, Feltwell, Norfolk county, northeast of London, where we were for almost seven months. We were very well located for the circumstances and witnessed several Zeppelin air raids, etc.

Well, I shall have to write again soon and will write more.

Best wishes to all from

CONGREGATIONAL SOCIAL

A most happy time was enjoyed last evening by a few of the members and friends of the Congregational Church who were not afraid of the rain.

The social took the form of a railroad trip east, Ralph Beers proving a very efficient and entertaining conductor.

Stops were made at Chicago, where Hartley Shaw pointed out the educational and ludicrous points in the city, also Boston, where Mrs. George Adams took the travelers through the city. The stop here was long enough for the box luncheon, also Boston baked beans and coffee to be served.
All boarded the train again, going to Washington, and there Blake Franklin acted as spieler. The last stop was New York, Mrs. George Colson helping the visitors enjoy the city.

A short tour of Europe and the trip home concluded the evening's fun and all present voted the evening a success.

shape of a huge box, with big iron doors in one end. While the fortunate one is bathing himself, his clothes and blankets are put in the box, the doors closed and then the dirty work commences. When my clothes came out I looked on my blue sweater, and beheld a sight that filled me with joy. "Cooties" by the score were lying on their backs, but sticking straight up. They had died with their boots on, and I was robbed of their congenial companionship forever (I hope). They sure believe in giving them enough steam. It takes about twenty-five minutes for the operation.

Well, I am still custodian of the jail during the night, so sleep during the day, not being able to ramble around and gather much news of interest. I was just talking to Shirley Melrose last night. He operates the moving picture projector at the Y.
M. C. A. He is the son of Judge Melrose of Tropico.

Ben had better try a little patience and not do anything out of the way, as most of the fellows enjoying our hospitality in the guard house are in there for desertion. There is not a man in the A. E. F. who would not be glad to trade places with him. He never had to live like a soldier, with no place to sleep, and half the time nothing to eat, and when he does there is never any variety. If he had gone through with what I have, he would consider his job a rich dish. Well, I must close this short letter. I received a letter of yours the other day, but not the one with the other letters you spoke of.
Hope you are getting all of my mail.

With love,

CPL. J. MURRAY DURHAM,
91st Division, Military Police.

PACIFIC AVENUE P-T. A.

In spite of the storm Thursday, March 13th, the Pacific Avenue Parent-Teachers' Association held its regular monthly meeting, the afternoon being devoted in part to music, games and a social chat.

There were the usual number of intensely interested men and women present who opened the meeting by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner," accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Moode.

With deep regret those present listened to the secretary, Mrs. Tonsier, read the resignation of the president, Mrs. Frank Ayars.

Mrs. Minnette Sherman most graciously responded to a vote from the floor to act as president pro tem.

Later Mrs. J. F. Tatlow, of 311 Oak street, was unanimously elected president for the remaining term. In securing Mrs. Tatlow's able leadership, the association feels confident of continued success in all its undertakings.

Mrs. Cora Taylor, principal of Columbus Ave. School with several of her little pupils, gave a splendid illustration of how to teach reading to the beginner.

Delightful piano selections were contributed by Esther Phillippi and Roma Staub.

Master Obed Lucas sang in a most bewitching manner being accompanied by his sister, Erma Lucas.

Richardson D. White spoke on the question of a municipal park, civic center and memorial for soldiers and sailors who went from Glendale to army camps at home and abroad in the great world war. Mr. White's experience and achievements especially qualify him for this subject and the association's sentiment heartily indorsed his recommendation to investigate all phases of the project.

Mrs. Geo. Herald and Mrs. Margaret Longley, judges in the "California" contest, awarded the first prize to Mrs. M. L. Ralston and the second to Mrs. E. L. Bryant.

The Fifth and Sixth Grades were awarded the candy for being represented by the largest number of parents and friends.

Mrs. W. E. Halstead, hospitality chairman, assisted by Mrs. A. S.
Chase, Mrs. M. A. Heasley and Mrs.
Pierson Hanning, introduced the mothers while serving tea and cakes.

"FATHERS' NIGHT" POSTPONE- MENT

On account of the Community Sing contest between the choruses of Glendale and Hollywood, which will take place in Glendale High School the evening of March 20th, the "Fathers' Night" of the Cerritos School P-T. A., which had been planned for the same evening, has been postponed. The later date has not yet been announced. Many members of both the Sing and the P-T. A. wish to attend the contest and not to provide any competing attraction for that night.
